Thank you for applying to Bwog!

- Please respond to all questions below. There is no maximum or minimum length for responses.
- Email editors@bwog.com with an attached PDF of your application by Friday, January 31 at 11:59 pm EST. Email us if you have any questions!
- Have fun!

About Bwog:

- What do you think Bwog is?
- Tell us about one Bwog post you liked, one post you didn't like, and why for both.
- Come up with three sample post ideas (articles, podcasts, etc.) that you would like to see on Bwog. Make sure they're related to Columbia or Barnard!
- Draw Bwog. (We welcome bad drawings!)

About you:

- Classic get-to-know-you: name, pronouns, (intended) major, school, graduation year, anything else you want to include!
- Why do you want to join Bwog?
- You're taking Bwog out on a date! What would you do? Where would you go? There are no limits!

Daily Editors:

- Give us a screenshot of the open tabs on your browser.
- How do you manage your time and keep yourself organized?
- Are you able to dedicate one day per week to Bwog?
- What three days work best for you to Daily, in order of preference?

Questions on commitment/other student news organizations:

- It is Bwog policy that you cannot simultaneously be a member of Bwog and another student news organization on campus (such as Columbia Daily Spectator, The Blue & White, WKCR News, or The Federalist, etc). You are allowed, however, to write for campus literary magazines and other, non-journalistic organizations. Do you understand that if you are accepted to Bwog and to another publication, you will be expected to only commit to one organization?
- Because the commitment required for Dailying is greater than that of being a Staff Writer, if you are accepted as a Daily Editor, it is our expectation that you will Daily for the entirety of the upcoming semester. If you are also applying to other places of student journalism, and are not sure which is your preference, please indicate that here. Do you understand this expectation of commitment?
